What training is needed to work in this field?	No special training, but one does need to learn about environmental concerns.
What is a typical week like or what do you spend most of your time doing in your job?	Participating in marketing decisions, writing letters, ad & label copy, paperwork.
What is the job outlook for this field?	Still small but growing.
What are the benefits of working in this field?	A sense of doing good, and not harm, for one's living.
What advice or other information do you want to share with someone considering this field?	This is still an area that needs people in all fields to become more aware their habits have on their environment - and themselves. That means whatever one's personal gifts and strengths, any wholesome environmental perspective will go with them to their workplace. That said, to work specifically in this field, consider the health field, research, and government.
